

Processes

This section aims to help both our customers and our open-source contributors to understand how we work and which tools we use.

The following pages summarise our most important software development processes - our way of working - and link to more detailed documentation where available.

01 Dokuwiki

Introduction to the contents of our Dokuwiki, and detailed documentation on how to create or edit contents.

⇒ 01 Dokuwiki

02 Version Control

Detailed description on how to setup Git, and how to work with it. Also covers our versioning strategy.

⇒ 02 Version Control

03 Issue Tracking

Information on where to find our issue tracking and how to contribute.

⇒ 03 Issue Tracking

04 Release Management

Details on how we create new releases for the projects and applications we develop, and where to find them.

⇒ 04 Release Management

05 Collaboration

Information on how to collaborate on our source code (both closed and open source) in alignment with our way of working.
